

BEAU – MARIS

– OR BARE – MARIS ?

BUILD AMONG YOUR TREES — NOT OVER THEM

Beaumaris is one of the few suburbs that has retained its natural trees and shrubs. Will you help to keep it that way when you are planning your garden?

IF YOU MUST CUT DOWN A TREE—PLANT MORE TREES

Unfortunately for Beaumaris, the first step taken by some newcomers is to clear their land of EVERYTHING. Trees that have taken years to reach maturity and provide a natural and pleasing setting are cut down and later have to be replaced at considerable expense and trouble.

It's HARD WORK clearing those trees — it's HARD WORK planting more trees that may not thrive in the sandy soil and salt-laden wind — it's HARD WORK eternally watering and caring for unprotected exotic trees when the weather is hot and the beach beckons.

TO CHOP IS TO CHEAPEN—BURY YOUR AXE!

The most-sought-after houses in Beaumaris — and those commanding the best prices — are those where the home-builder has utilised the natural setting and kept the trees.

SEE YOUR BLOCK IN SPRING!

The wildflowers of the district are botanically unique, and becoming very scarce. If you are fortunate enough to have some on your property, why not leave them undisturbed? We will help you identify species.

“BEAUMARIS” or “BARE-MARIS”

The cover picture is of a Beaumaris home in its natural setting, and — what it might have been!